COUNCIL REVERSES ITSELF ON THIRD STREET GRADE MATTER

Street Will Not be Elevated
At Its Intersection With Lookout Avenue

ORDINANCE TURNED FLAT

Prepared Statute Fails to Pass Third
Reading by Vote of Four to Three —Bill Already Made Must Now be Taken Out.

Council reversed itself again on the Third street grade matter at a meeting Wednesday night, with the result that the grade of Third from Lincoln avenue to Crest avenue will range from a 10 to an 11 per cent grade all the way up. This is contrary to the plan adopted last week by council to elevate Third street approximately three feet at its intersection with Lookout avenue, in order to effect a good grade on Lookout. The action of reversal was taken with four members for and three members against it.

Following the unanimous decision of the members of council last week to elevate Third street at the Lookout avenue intersection an ordinance was presented for first reading Wednesday night. A motion was made and seconded in due form that the ordinance pass first reading. Before remarks were made the vote was taken and the ordinance turned down flat, four to three.

After the action of last week that Third would be elevated to conform to what seemed a suitable Lookout avenue grade Contractor Thomas Arigo started to make a fill. Now he will have to take out whatever part of the fill he had made.

What will be done with Lookout remains a question. One councilman says simply that it will be cut down and a 14 to 15 per cent grade formed. The high separating wall dividing the two Third streets will be left as it is.

UNUSUAL FACTS IN MAN'S DEATH

Coronial Investigation Made
Into Shooting of John
Chingo at Donora

SHOT BY PERSON UNKNOWN

Rather unusual facts developed in the inquest held at Donora in the death of John Chingo, aged 19, who was found with a bullet wound through his head on the Jenkins' farm back of Donora in this county on September 7, 1915. The jury found that Chingo came to his death from a bullet wound inflicted by a gun in the hands of some person unknown.

The theory is that Chingo's death was accidental, but who fired the shot that caused the fatal wound is a mystery. Chingo had been employed in the mill at Monessen. He had had some trouble with a fellow workman had a fight in the mill and was discharged. After he had received his pay he learned that a warrant was out for his arrest on a charge of assault. He took a street car and came across the river to Lock No. 4. There he changed to the Pittsburgh-Charlottesville line and rode to near Eldora park. From there he went to the point where he was found dead. When discovered the body was lying under an apple tree and a half eaten apple was in his hand.

Considerable investigation was made to learn how Chingo received the fatal wound. Mrs. Neely, colored, it was learned, who lived near where Chingo was found said she had seen two young men with dogs on the opposite side of the hollow from where Chingo was found. They appeared to be hunting and one of them had something in his hand but she could not say whether it was a gun or not. These two young men it was ascertained were John Jordon, white and Sim Johnson, colored, both of Donora.

SHOVEL TRADE SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

Foreign Business Reaching the United States, and Domestic Business is Bettering—Addition Being Built to Charleroi Plant

Excavation work has been started for a 50 by 90 foot addition to the machine department of the Hussey-Binns Shovel company's plant here. The addition is to be finished if possible before cold weather sets in and is of course to enlarge the capacity of the department.

Business is gradually improving in the shovel trade the same that it is in the steel and other trades, partly due to the war in Europe. For instance countries which formerly depended upon Germany and England for their shovels are now getting them from the United States. Inasmuch as the Hussey-Binns company is the leading concern in export trade the local plant is getting in some new work.

CHIEF BENDER MEETS HIS MATCH IN MARKER

Famous Baseball Pitcher Bested in Live Pigeon Shooting Here—Betting
Spirited With Marker Proving The Favorite

Chief C. A. Bender, once champion pitcher with Connie Mack's world champions and crack shot, met more than his match Wednesday afternoon in the live bird shooting, as he did a year ago in baseball. George Marker, a railroad officer of West Brownsville, proved himself Bender's superior by killing 20 out of 25 pigeons to Bender's 16 out of 25. The prize, straight out was $1,000, to say nothing of gate money.

Marker and Bender tied on the twelfth shot, both having shot nine birds. In the fourteenth they tied again with 10 to their credit. After this Bender missed one and could not get within hailing distance of Marker again. The railroad man killing his next 10 and assuring himself of victory and fat purse.

Betting was spirited. Sporting men were here from various points of Pennsylvania and other states. Marker was a favorite all the way through.

WOODWARD GETS THIRD IN BIG FREE-FOR-ALL

Local Driver Qualifies in 25-Mile Run
In Automobile Contests Staged
Wednesday Afternoon at Washington
Race Track.

Though breaks were not with him and though his machine wasn't working in its best mood, Guy Woodward of Charleroi took third place in the free-for-all 25 mile run at the Washington automobile races at the Arden track Wednesday afternoon. This gave him a slice of the prize money, besides putting him in one of the most exciting races of the day.

Attended by more than 5,000 people the races were notable. One of the real treats of the afternoon was the driving of A. E. Waldon who driving a Chalmers from Uniontown took first place in three of the four events for automobiles. His winnings amounted to $50. Harry L. Robinson of Washington, driving his Haynes "Black Hawk" was the only other pilot to secure a first. He won the 10-mile event for cars of 450 cubic inches displacement and under. W. E. Lowstuter of Charleroi drove a Haynes car from Pittsburgh and took

KILLED WHEN WALL CAVES IN

Louis Marini, Foreigner of Belle Vernon, Suffers
Death in Work Here

EMPLOYED IN EXCAVATING

Struck by rocks when a part of an old wall caved in Louis Marini, aged about 50 years of Belle Vernon was killed this morning in a trench he was digging back of the Hussey-Binns plant.

Marini was working for the Charleroi Lumber Company, which has the contract for building an addition to the shovel plant. He was employed on excavating work, and was digging near the old wall which stood at the rear of the shovel factory. Underrunning brought down the rocks as he was bending over. Two ribs were broken it seems and apparently one pierced his heart, so that he died while on his way to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital.

Marini is survived by his widow three sons and one daughter. The youngest five years. Coroner James T. Heffran has been notified.

LIVING

The United States Public Health service and the various health agencies of this country are working to prolong the average duration of life. In this they are obeying the desire for existence which is the strongest instinct of mankind. Only a small proportion of the human race rounds out its tour of duty on this earth. Some people are born with good bodies which they treat well. Barring accidents, they live a long time. Some people are born with poor bodies which they treat well. Barring accidents, they can live to a ripe old age. Some people are born with good bodies which they treat badly and some people are born with poor bodies which they treat badly. They don't last long.

It is recorded that in Yorkshire in 1501, Henry Jenkins was born. He died in 1670, cut off at the age of 169. He remembered well the battle of Flodden Field. This occurred in 1513, when he was 12 years of age. The Register of Chancery and other courts show the administration of oaths to him 140 years prior to his death. He gave deposition as witness when he was 157. In his young manhood, when he was a little over 100, he was a remarkable swimmer.

The term "old age" too frequently is another name for the falling dice of the debts of youth. Over-eating, over-drinking, over-playing, over-working, these are drafts on the bank of nature which sooner or later must be met. Sometimes the day of reckoning can be put off a little. But Dame Nature will not be wheedled out of her claim.

The remarkable thing about Henry Jenkins is the fact that he has left behind him no rules of living which would enable one to duplicate his feat. In this he showed great self-repression. As a matter of fact there is no royal road to old age and it is not to be attained by a particular dietary or regimen of life. Perhaps the best rule may be expressed in one word, "Moderation." Moderation in food, moderation in drink, moderation in the joys and worries of life, moderation in work, moderation in recreation, equanimity of the mind, the soul and the body. These make for long tenure of life.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Where is the distinction and why? We hear that it is an infraction of a serious sort to bet money on a quiet game in somebody's back room. Then we see hundreds of dollars won and lost in open betting on a baseball field where pigeon shooting is the attraction. In the name of consistency how are we ever going to enforce the law against gambling in a back room when we wink at it on an enclosed public field?

It shouldn't be necessary for a candidate to spend as small fortune to conducting his campaign. Expense accounts just filed by defeated candidates prove that a large sum of money went to waste in Washington county preceding the primaries. More is going to waste right now, for it is a physical impossibility for two or more men to get elected to one office, and there are two or more candidates for every place at the gift of the people. It isn't right that the man who pays the highest should always land the office. Yet it is developing into that sort of buying. What we want to do is to arrange some sort of system whereby the capable man of moderate means will be given equal opportunity to the man of large income. This is democracy.

With a course that commands it to the leading colleges and universities of the nation and that wins the highest respect, Charleroi high school is an educational institution of an advanced sort. It means something for a high school to prepare students for college without forcing study on them on to in after they enter the latter.

It is unusual indeed what you find in a high school with more boys than girls, pupils, a reality at the Charleroi high school. This indicates four things chiefly, the strength of the athletic features as an advertising medium, the up-to-dateness of the school plant, the strength of the faculty, and the superiority of the various courses offered.

Electric Sparks

Now is the time for mere man to make party affiliations within his own family.

About the time a man gets his diet well fixed he contracts indigestion and dies.

A really sociable man is one who will stop in the midst of a rip-roaring cheer to tell you what is the score.

The socialist complain that one party has stolen a part of their thunder, another party another part and so on. This makes one wonder what they will do if woman suffrage carries and they can no longer claim it.

A lawsuit was recently in full swing, and during its progress a witness was cross-examined as to the habits and character of the defendant.

"Has Mr. M— a reputation for being abnormally lazy?" asked counsel, briskly.

"Well, sir, it's this way—" "Will you kindly answer the question asked?" struck in the irascible lawyer.

"Well, sir, I was going to say it's this way. I don't want to do the gentleman in question any injustice and I won't go so far as to say, sir, that he's lazy exactly; but if it required any voluntary work on his part to digest his food—why he'd die from lack of nourishment, sir."

The upkeep of a motorcar keeps many a man down.

A princess doesn't seem to know it. But a man would rather see a girl wearing imitation lace than a clean torn real lace that is dirty.

Any woman can tell you that she would be as well dressed as other women if she starved herself as they do and put everything she had on her back.

It is mighty hard for a woman to decide whether she would rather be a perfect thirty-six and be poor or be a fat woman and be wealthy.

If her mirror tells her that she is homely and her gentleman friend tells her that she is beautiful she knows that the mirror is a liar.

You imagine that it must be fine to be wealthy and do as you please. But the fact is that there are mighty few wealthy men who are not disappointed at least a dozen times a day.

Isn't it remarkable how polite a man can be when he is getting ready to touch you for a loan?

HOW TO BE STRONG AND FAT

The trouble with most thin people who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern science is called Tonoline and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Tonoline aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 30 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Tonoline is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Tonoline costs only $1.00 for a 15 days' treatment.

From Beauty News

Miss L. S. T.: A complexion, marvelous for its clearness, pinky whiteness and softness, will be produced by the liberal use of rosetone. Rub this cream on the entire face liberally. Let the cream dry on the face. Repeat this again at night. Any good druggist will sell you an ounce of rosetone.

REPRODUCTION IS MADE EASY

A new optical method for making reproductions of sculptures consists in photographing the object from two or more points of view and then, with the cameras and lines of sight in exactly the same relative positions, projecting the images to an intersection on the modeling clay or block of marble from which the reproduction is to be made. While somewhat crude in its present state, this process, says Popular Mechanics, is one that apparently has great possibilities for future development. In making the reproduction the worker simply cuts away the material at any point until the corresponding points as projected from the different cameras coincide on the surface. As most sculptural objects do not have points that are sufficiently prominent for their coincidence to be determined with precision, it is proposed to use an additional apparatus for projecting a series of fine lines and letters on the object while it is being photographed. These lines and letters, of course, appear on the negative made by each of the cameras and are projected with the image. In this way the worker obtains a set of artificial points that are sharp and definite, and the coincidence of these is easily determined.

The Bible in Russia.

The holy synod at Petrograd has been busily engaged in the work of producing popular editions of the Bible. These are being widely distributed by the Orthodox church among soldiers on the battle field as well as to the sick and wounded. Various Russian Red Cross aid associations are including Bibles and Testaments in their parcels of "comforts" for troops at the front, and as the available stock of the British and Foreign Bible society has become exhausted, the holy synod is undertaking the work of printing fresh editions. Should this wave of enthusiasm for the propagation of the Holy Scriptures prove more than a passing phase we may look forward to a revival of intelligent religious instruction in Russia.

Journey Into the Unknown.

The University of Pennsylvania Amazon expedition has made another journey into the unknown and is now exploring the frontier regions of Brazil, Peru and Bolivia. The expedition expects to spend six months in that region and to return to civilization at Para.

Regulating Electric Lamp.
The demand for regulating the degree of light from an electric lamp has resulted in a lamp which has been recently exploited, containing two separate filaments of the lamp, which may be operated separately or together, giving the lamp a rating of 200 watts, with each filament taking 100 watts. A consumption of 0.6 watt per candlepower is claimed for this lamp, and it has a life of 2,000 hours if the filaments are burned separately, or 1,000 when they are burned together.

Happiness.

"I have tried all sorts of happiness, and it never lasts," said a spoiled, petulant, cynical woman. "Did you ever try forgetting yourself for six months?" said a shrewd listener. The question went to the heart of the trouble. To paraphrase an old proverb, when self comes in at the door, happiness flies out of the window.

Dread Year of the Tiger.

The Year of the Tiger—1914 was so called in the Japanese calendar—forecast calamity in the prophecies of that people. The Japan Chronicle notes that the ancient superstition is confirmed by the European war, outside which the volcanic eruption at Kagoshima was of trifling consequence.

A Cutting Remark.

"You have cut my hair too short," said the man to the barber. "Now cut it longer." And the barber, being a man of many sides and much resource, did so. He cut it three minutes longer.

Astray.

"It is my intention to lead you on the way to righteousness," said the reformer.

"Stranger," replied Bronco Bob, "you're lost. If that's your destination your trail never would have led you through Crimson Gulch."

The More Important Service.

"You have charged me too much for this divorce," vociferated the opera singer.

"Madam," protested the lawyer, "consider the extra work you have made me do as press agent."

Use Zinc as Nuggets.
A shoveler in one of the Joplin zinc mines who had seen in the movies how the gold miners bought what they needed with gold nuggets, recently laid a small chunk of zinc ore on a bar counter and called for a beer. The bartender served the drink to him and laid down 20 cents in change, and of course the crowd laughed and cheered.
Such is the spirit of the Joplin zinc boom, with crude zinc ore now worth seven cents a pound, which is about 50 per cent higher than the refined product spelter has averaged for many years.—Wall Street Journal.

A Philosopher's Nightcap.
Many years ago I was in a northern country house in which Herbert Spencer was staying. At that time he suffered from sleeplessness, and one night on going to bed he said to me: "I am about to drink some hot brandy and water in order to restore the periodicity of my somniferous functions."—London Spectator.

UNUSUAL FACTS

ora. Two young foreign lads, Alex and Ignace Opalkiewicz it was learned, were playing down in the hollow. It appears they saw the two men and the dogs and one of the lads called something to the men telling them to "get out." These lads say one of the men had a gun and that shots were fired. The two men, Jordan and Johnson admit all the facts as above stated except the shooting and both denied having a gun. They say they were not hunting but simply training the dogs.

Chingo was killed about opposite from where the two men and the dogs were seen and where the men admitted they were. The inquest threw no light on the question of who did the shooting. The fight at the mill at Monessen, it was certainly ascertained had no connection with the death of Chingo.
